

Stewart School

According to one source, Stewart School was one of the seven early schools established in Trinity County. It was in operation during the 1862 – 63 school year with one teacher but was closed by 1864.¹ It had to have been a private school as there is no record of the school in any of the historic school records kept at the Trinity County Office of Education.

¹ "Holland, James. A History of Education in Trinity County; A Thesis presented to the School of Education. 1971. Chico State College, 24.